

Dr Vytautas Rinkevičius is an associate professor at the Department of Baltic Studies, Vilnius University. In 2009, he defended his PhD thesis “The Accentuation System of Old Prussian”. His research interests are focused on the Baltic historical grammar, Old Prussian studies, Latvian studies, and historical accentology. Dr Vytautas Rinkevičius is the author of two monographs, a handbook of Old Prussian for university students, 11 research articles, and a digital database. He has participated in eight research projects and has led five of them. Dr Rinkevičius has presented his research at 11 international conferences in Lithuania, Latvia, Russia, the Czech Republic, Slovenia, Austria, and the Netherlands, and in a number of academic lectures that he has delivered as an invited lecturer at various universities in Latvia, Poland, Slovenia, Germany and Switzerland. Dr Vytautas Rinkevičius is the deputy editor of the international scholarly journal Baltistica. Awards: Best PhD Dissertation in Humanities and Social Sciences in Lithuania (2009), young researcher scholarship of the Lithuanian Academy of Sciences (2010), Vilnius University Best Applied Research Work (2013), Linguist Jonas Kazlauskas Award (2015).